

Media Quotes About Dr. James Canton

“Money management may become man versus the machine, futurist Canton says”

Wall Street Journal

“James Canton, chief executive of the think tank Institute for Global Futures, thinks that in the future many of your belongings will have embedded information, allowing... your clothing to communicate with each other.”

NBC News

“Dr. James Canton says what was once science fiction will soon be science fact”

FOX News

“James Canton has looked into his crystal ball and has fascinating predictions...”

CNBC

“When everything – every object surrounding us – has an IP address, when our car can talk to our home, our phone, our TV – when all these objects connect and form part of what Dr. Canton calls a ‘blended reality’”

Forbes

“the convergence of robotics, AI computers, nanoscience and biotech will offer new choices for humans to extend their consciousness beyond the limitations of their bodies”

Gizmag

“We are likely to see major strides in regenerative medicine says Dr. James Canton”

The Atlantic

“It’s time for a security check says futurist Dr. James Canton”

Chief Executive Magazine

“There are still some (futurists) prophesying at the planetary level: James Canton, for example, author of “Extreme Future”

The Economist

“The future, however extreme it is, could benefit from more thinkers as creative and ambitious as James Canton.”

World Future Society